DEBATES ALL LABOR FAVORS BEER-WINE

E. W. Oyster Calls No-Beer-No-Work Move German Propaganda.

DRY LAW IN DISTRICT

Vehement denial that organized labor is unanimous, "or anywhere near it," in favor of the exemption of beer and wine from the operation of war-time prohibition, which becomes effective July 1, was made by E. W. Oyster, for more than fifty years a member of the Columbia Typographical Union, before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee considering the bill to enforce nation-wide prohibition, yesterday afternoon.

Chairman Sterling asked Mr. Oyster how prohibition had worked in the District of Columbia. He answered that he believed it had worked well, and that as soon as Baltimore is cut off as a source of supply for the "bootleggers," the benefit will become still more apparent.

Called Hun Propaganda.
Mr. Oyster declared that those who have added the "no-beer-no-work" slogan are working in the interests of the German brewers; that it is all a part of the "Hun propaganda," working in the dark and following in the footsteps of the "traitorous German-American Alliance," which Congress put out of business during the war. Mr. Oyster continued:

It is a gross misrepresentation to say that organized labor is unanimous on this liquor question. Members of the trade unions are divided upon it. Just as other citizens.

Mr. Oyster spoke of the situation in the National Capital, where he estimated there were about 45,000 trade union members. He said that a parade was planned for the local labor union members in connection with the demonstration. At first it was to be held June 5, with 100,000 persons in line; then June 14, with 50,000 in line. In the end, he said, there was no parade whatever of the local trade unionists in connection with the demonstration. The only parade that took place was a short march of some 4,500 persons, who came here from other cities.

"The parade of the local unions was finally abandoned because the organizers of the demonstration were afraid it would show their weakness," he explained, commented Mr. Oyster.

Discusses Samuel Gompers.
Chairman Sterling asked Mr. Oyster how he regarded the speech made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, at the demonstration. He replied that he believed Mr. Gompers was wrong in connection with the prohibition matter, but that he would joyfully support Gompers, and had supported him in every effort to better the conditions of labor. Mr. Oyster insisted that he believed thoroughly in the principles of trade unionism and that this country could not do without strong trade unions.

"I say this," said Mr. Oyster, "to keep the record straight so far as my stand on trade unionism is concerned."

Medical Stand Told.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the temperance board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, laid before the committee a telegram from the American Medical Association regarding the "Allied Medical Association," which recently, he said, had adopted a resolution stating that beer was necessary from a medicinal standpoint. The telegram read:

"Allied Medical Association not representative of scientific medicine. Ignat Mayer, president, born Austria, advertised specializing exclusively in the cure of rupture." L. Mottey, secretary-treasurer, apparently chief organizer, born Hungary, received newspaper publicity in connection with anti-vaccination activities and alleged cure for cancer. (Signed) "AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION."

At the conclusion of the hearing Chairman Sterling announced that the committee tomorrow would begin work on the bill to enforce war-time prohibition and prohibition under the constitutional amendment, which becomes effective next January.

COLORED HIGHWAYMEN HOLD UP EDW. EMPKE

Take $1.80 From Him and Coolly Walk Away—Other Local Robberies Reported.

While passing along 1st street near Florida avenue, on his way home, this morning about 1:30 o'clock, Edward Empke, 39 Quincy street, was held up at the point of a pistol by two unidentified colored men and robbed of $1.80. The highwaymen did not assault Mr. Empke. They merely made a demand for his money, got it and walked away.

M. Carbage, 3047 M street, was held up by a lone colored man at the point of a pistol last night about 9 o'clock near 30th and M streets. Carbage told the police the man made no demand for money, probably becoming alarmed before he had an opportunity to do so.

Three hundred dollars in cash, a liberty bond of the first issue and a discharge from the Army were in a pocketbook that was stolen from a motor truck at 36th street and Prospect avenue yesterday afternoon. Nelson Ellis, 1237 4th street, victim of the thieves, reported his loss to police of the seventh precinct.

Jewelry valued at $150 was stolen from the apartment of Miss Mabel Leake, 1221 Vermont avenue, yesterday, and Miss Spicer, another roomer, was robbed of $150.

Theft of jewelry worth $1,950 and a pair of white kid gloves was reported by Mrs. M. M. Maccomb, 1271 New Hampshire avenue. She told the police that the stolen property belonged to Miss Annie C. Mervin, Cazenovia, N. Y., and that the theft was committed at 1316 19th street.

A colored man smashed a show window at the store of Harry Abramson, 1022 7th street, about 1:30 o'clock this morning, grabbed a suit of clothes and disappeared. William Jones, 1051 7th street, pursued the robber a short distance and recovered the clothing.

Sumner Mills, Indianapolis, Ind., a visitor, told the police $35 had been stolen from his room in a house on Pennsylvania avenue.

URGES EXTENSION PROGRAM.
President of St. John's College Appeals to Cadet Body.

Cadets of the college were urged to help in putting the extension campaign now being held by St. John's College over the top by Brother D. Edward, president of the college, at a banquet last night at the Harrington Hotel. Commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the cadet unit were guests at the banquet. The speaker emphasized the value of military training in developing fearlessness and self-reliance in youth.

Cadet Maj. Keane also urged support of the fund by the men of the cadet corps of the school.

A. F. OF L. ADOPTS WORKERS' NEW 'DECLARATION OF RIGHTS'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 20.—A comprehensive reconstruction program, designed to "bring to all people greater hope for a better day, a brighter life, greater liberty and a larger degree of happiness," was adopted by the American Federation of Labor at yesterday's session of its annual convention. Radicals and conservatives united in approving a report embodying reconstructive recommendations devised by the federation's executive council. The report was termed by labor leaders "a new declaration of independence for the workers of America."

Brief of Program.
The report says:

"The reconstruction program in brief recommends remedies against unemployment; demands adequate wages; declares labor's right to fix its own working hours; demands protection of women and children in industry; favors co-operative institutions of farmers and such producing agencies; favors curbing the power of the courts to make and unmake laws; favors full participation of labor in politics; favors public extension of waterways and public ownership and development of water power; urges a minimum of land tenure; and favors farm ownership with public aid; would curtail, for two years and restrict thereafter, would tax in proportion to the income of persons or property; favors state colleges for workingmen's children and demands a verdict for labor in conducting industrial education; urges governmental aid in building homes; opposes large standing armies; favors help for soldiers and sailors to returning soldiers; favors urgent and immediate remedial measure, urges the payment of salaries to returning soldiers; favors a limited period after discharge."

Opposes Forming Labor Party.
Without even a debate the convention went on record against the formation of a political labor party. It took Congress to task severely for making small appropriations to the Department of Labor, citing that

PETWORTH CITIZENS PLAN.

July 4 Celebration Program to Be Best in History of Community.

Preparations are being made by the committees selected by the Citizens' Association of Petworth to make the Fourth of July celebration this year one of the best in the history of Petworth.

The children are taking an active part and are building floats and otherwise making preparations for their parade, which is the feature of the morning's celebration.

A United States senator has consented to address the gathering in the forenoon and the fireworks, which will begin shortly after dark, will represent battles of the world's war. The contributions for this celebration are being made exclusively by the citizens of Petworth.

The children of the seventh and eighth grades are preparing essays on "Democracy in the National Capital." War savings and thrift stamps will be awarded for the essay contest, and for the best features of the morning's parade and athletic features of the afternoon.

Revert to Former Army Status.

Maj. Gen. Edmund Wittenmyer and Brig. Gen. Dwight E. Aultman have been honorably discharged in their present emergency grades and will revert to their former status in the Regular Army.
